

Building Support for a STRONGER VERITAS ACADEMY

Just as classical Roman buildings embodied the enduring strength of the Roman Empire, we at Veritas Academy hope to build a strong base of support that will strengthen classical Christian education in Texarkana now and for years to come. Would you consider helping with part of our “building”?

The classical building in Rome had certain architectural components, each of which was essential to the success of the whole. Each building started with a solid foundation to give it long-term stability. Columns allowed that stability to soar to impressive heights. Domes held the structure together and provided shelter from the elements. Ornamentation humanized the structure to make it livable.

In our quest to build a lasting school and home to generations of well-equipped students, we need partners and patrons that will provide these essential parts of the building. Would you prayerfully consider partnering with Veritas Academy in one of these categories?
